Your Japan #54

An Online Newsletter Showcasing Our Programs for the Month of October, 2023!

At the end of September, we took our Samurai Acting event on the road to Fairbanks & Anchorage, Alaska, and it was a huge success at the University of Anchorage in both cities. Thank you to all our partners and participants who came out to make this event possible. We also started our new exhibition titled "Expressions of Life: The World of Self-Taught Artists With Disabilities" and it will be on display until December 16th so drop on by to see these unique pieces of art.

We also announced the winner of our 40th Anniversary Logo Contest and you can see the winning design above. It was submitted by NATHALIE SÖDERQVIST and you can learn more about her interest in Japan through a brief interview we conducted here.

For October, we announced our Program Guidelines for the 2024 Fiscal Year, so make sure to apply if you are interested in our training programs or Arts & Culture Programs. We will also be organizing many other events this month to support Japanese language like Tea Time and Shamisen at Cal State Dominguez Hills, as well as Arts & Cultural events like Onigiri Action. In addition, we will be supporting other events in Southern California including the Hollywood Film Festival, Irvine Global Village Festival where we will have a booth with the Consulate General of Japan in Los Angeles, and the 25th Annual Fall Benefit Event. We are also supporting Cinema Kabuki in Billings, Montana and the 14th Annual Aki Matsuri in Henderson, NV. If you are anywhere near these locations, please come out and experiences Japanese Art & Culture!

We leave September behind and move into October with it's shorter days and cooler evenings, but we hope you will take advantage of the nicer weather and experience our Japan related events!

EXPRESSIONS OF LIFE: THE WORLD OF SELF-TAUGHT ARTISTS WITH DISABILITIES

September 26th to December 16th 2023 Hours: Mon-Sat 12:00PM-6:00PM Closed: Sundays and Holidays (10/7, 10/9, 11/10, 11/11, 11/23, 11/24)

Venue: JFLA

-Admission Free

In commemorating the 40th anniversary of its operation, the Japan Foundation, Los Angeles proudly presents the art exhibition titled Expression of Life: The World of Self-Taught Artists with Disabilities. This exhibition features over 35 vibrant artworks from Katayama Studio's collection. It is one of the earliest art studios in Japan dedicated to supporting self-expression and art activities for individuals with disabilities. The studio has been doing so for two decades.

Featuring 12 artists' work, ranging from calligraphy to oil painting, we hope these free-flowing and lively art pieces will convey diverse perspectives on creativity and life.

There are a variety of settings in which Japanese language for children with Japanese backgrounds (Japanese Heritage Learners) is taught and learned in the United States. These children may live in areas with little access to Japanese-language classes, much less ones with curricula tailored to their unique experiences and skillsets.

To help serve their needs, JFLA has launched keishonihongo.org, an online platform for parents and teachers of Japanese heritage language learners.

Keisho Nihongo pools from the knowledge of The Japan Foundation, Los Angeles, and the Keisho Nihongo Special Advisory Committee, consisting of three experts in the field of Japanese heritage language education. The site includes a nationwide map of heritage language programs, in addition to a curated list of educational materials and resources for teachers and guardians. There is also a community forum and a page highlighting exemplary heritage language programs.

Keisho Nihongo is available in both English and Japanese, so please visit today!

General Invitation to Join JF USA Digital Library

Our digital library system in coordination with our New York and Toronto office is still going strong and we recently added more volume to popular books so there is less of a wait time. We have also been incrementally adding new books as well so make sure to signup for an account below and also let your friends know about this free service.

Starting in 2023, we will be sending out updates once a week on Wednesdays by 6:30PM pacific time. If you register and do not receive a welcome email from us within a Wednesday of registering, please contact us so we can help you out. We hope you will enjoy this service from the Japan Foundation, Los Angeles!

Japanese Language Education Update 118

If you are interested in participating in our training programs in Japan next year, make sure to view our program guidelines above. There have been some changes to both programs including the reduction of the teacher training programs from four to three in our region as well as only one long term program for the training program for specialists. The deadline this year is at the end of November and we will again be using the online portal for applications. If you have any questions, please make sure to contact us and select "Anything Related to Japanese Language Education" from the drop down menu. Our Japanese language grants ended last month, but you can still apply for the Project Grant and we will have more information available in January/February of 2024 for next years' grants.

You can still order give away goods including posters so if you haven't ordered any from us in the past year, you can do so at the following link. Posters do not count towards your limit so if you are interested in just receiving posters, you can do that as well.
